

Clinical Trials Education Begins With You!

You can help your colleagues educate their patients, peers, and the public about clinical trials. The National Cancer Institute's NEW Clinical Trials Education Series explodes the myths and offers the facts about clinical trials. It features workbooks, slide presentations, a resource guide, and more — all designed to educate health care professionals.

To order FREE materials, call 1-800-4-CANCER or download them
at www.cancer.gov/publications.